

STYLE

Barbershop Quartet

and homemade astringent are all part of the tried-and-true process.

▶ No membership required to test out the old-fashioned, straight-razor tradition at the Racquet Club Barbershop (215 S. 16th Street, 3rd floor, 215-772-1542). Open M-Th, 8:30 am-7pm; F, 8:30 am-5 pm.

▶ West Philly's Hair Lounge (4702 Baltimore Ave., 215-727-1425) combines barbering with serious grooving. DJ-owners Jamar Ferrell and Hakim Woods supply their close-cropped customers with the double satisfaction of quick clips and rare albums — and, on occasion, live performances.

▶ For the real deal — right down to its striped pole, order-by-number system and girly magazines — get in line at Harry's Barber Shop, located in the below-ground level of the Arts Tower (1324 Locust St., 215-545-2626). No modern hair products — and definitely no talk of highlights or conditioning treatments — here, just a whole lot of manliness is going on.

— Lauren McCutcheon

cuts and color — amped up by a full stock of Bumble & Bumble. Won't be long before Luna's back-of-the-house staff—including a nail tech, dentist specializing in teeth whitening (Saturdays only, please) and brilliant facialist Pia, who's a wonder with the Dermlogica and amazingly unclogs your impacted pores with a gentle touch, brings out a healthy flush to your cheeks and sends your relaxed head on its merry daze way—will be knocking you out. You heard it here first.

▶ Groom (1315 Walnut Street, Suite 119, 215-545-5070).

Tucked along Juniper Street, Barber Joe McMenamin's sleek, train car-looking one-man operation offers classic shave and haircut combos that are fast developing a cult following. Hot towels